

LIGHT / DUST

Josh Yeoh & Jon Cho

[Key: Db | Tempo: 68bpm]

Verse 1

Upon the ground
You walked in sweet communion with the ones You made
Your gentleness has healed my brokenness
And made me great
How can it be?
Your spit and mud was all it took to help me see
The knees that hit the guilty earth were bent for me
In humility

Pre-Chorus

You hovered over uncreated earth
Upon the dust You laid your hands,
You breathed your life and gave us worth

Chorus

And the God who spoke light into darkness
Holds my heart, He remembers my frame
He's the strength in the midst of my weakness
He remembers my name

Verse 2

Upon the cross
You gave your life for the joy that's set before Your eyes
Blood and water from your side spilled on the earth
To give us birth
And on my heart
You wrote the testimony of pursuing love
Of how You came to seek and save the least, the last, the lost
The least, the last, the lost

Pre-Chorus

You hover over uncreated earth
Upon the dust You lay your hands,
You breathe your life and give us worth

Chorus 2

You're the God who spoke light into darkness
Hold my heart, You remember my frame
You're the strength in the midst of my weakness
You remember my name

You're the God who spoke light into darkness
Hold my heart, You remember my frame

1/5

4/6

You're the strength in the midst of my weakness
You remember my name
You remember my name

Verse 3

Upon the earth
You'll return to make your dwelling place with man
You will make all things new when you come again
Emmanuel
And on that day
You'll place a crown of righteousness upon my head
Perfecting every promise that You said
I'll wait for that

6m 5

I'll wait for that
